The College of Education and Technology's Shared Values and Beliefs is based on the Technological Pedagogical and Content Knowledge (TPACK) model. The Shared Values and Beliefs articulates the Educator Preparation Provider's (EPP) technology expectations for candidates. Education professionals uses technology appropriately and effectively within the classroom/school/district setting (TK 1). In addition, candidates in integrate current and emerging tools (TPACK 1) and design/facilitate diverse learning activities that incorporate digital tools and resources (TCK 1). Candidates demonstrate a sound knowledge of educational technology in planning, designing, delivering and evaluating effective learning experiences for all students.

The EPP has established Technology Proficiencies that are aligned with the Shared Values and Beliefs as well as the International Society for Technology in Education Standards for Teachers (ISTE Standards-T). The ISTE-T performance indicator 3d. Model and facilitate effective use of current and emerging digital tools to locate, analyze, evaluate, and use information resources to support research and learning is addressed in coursework and clinical practices, and assessed through the Fort Hays State University Quality Assurance System.

Technology proficiencies are also integrated into each teacher education methods course, and the into the Fort Hays State University Performance Assessment (FPA) at the end of the program. Candidate performance relating to technology proficiencies is systematically documented at each transition point through the EPP's key assessments.

All teacher preparation programs engage candidates through a progression of field and clinical experiences that include the integration, assessment, and use of technology.

Technology needs and integration within programs are reviewed annually.
