Re: Report of Emergency Safety Intervention Data for Reporting Period 1 of the 2015–16 School Year

The Kansas State Department of Education (KSDE) is required to submit certain emergency safety intervention data, in accordance with K.S.A. 2015 Supp. 72-89d04(c), to the Governor and the House and Senate Education Committees by January 20, 2016, and annually thereafter.

Requirements for Reporting Emergency Safety Intervention Data

Each district is required to report emergency safety intervention data to KSDE “by the date and in the form specified” by KSDE. K.A.R. § 91-42-3(b)(3). KSDE requires that all schools accredited by the Kansas State Board of Education submit an Emergency Safety Intervention Report by December 15 and June 15 of each year (unless one of these dates falls on a weekend and then the deadline is the business day following that date). The December 15 report must include any emergency safety intervention incident that occurred between June 1 and November 30 of that year. The June 15 report must include any emergency safety intervention incident that occurred between December 1 and May 31 of that year.

An “emergency safety intervention” is defined in Kansas statutes as “the use of seclusion or physical restraint.” Seclusion is defined as “placement of a student in a location where all the following conditions are met:

- (1) The student is placed in an enclosed area by school personnel;
- (2) the student is purposefully isolated from adults and peers; and
- (3) the student is prevented from leaving, or the student reasonably believes that such student will be prevented from leaving, the enclosed area.” Physical restraint is defined as “bodily force used to substantially limit a student’s movement, except that consensual, solicited or unintentional contact and contact to provide comfort, assistance or instruction shall not be deemed to be physical restraint.”

Each school must report the following information about an emergency safety intervention incident:

1. The student’s Kansas Individual Data on Students (KIDS) identification number. This is the identification number that KSDE assigns to each student. From this number KSDE pulls the student’s race, ethnicity, and age as reported by the districts in the KIDS secured web application.
2. Whether the student had an individualized education program (IEP) at the time of the incident
3. Whether the student had a Section 504 plan at the time of the incident

4. Whether the student had a behavior intervention plan (BIP) at the time of the incident
5. The date of the incident
6. Whether the incident was physical restraint or seclusion
7. The total minutes of physical restraint or seclusion. If the duration of the incident is less than one minute, then the duration must be reported as one minute.

Each accredited school must submit any seclusion or physical restraint incidents for any student for which it is responsible, even if the student attends school in a different location. KSDE defines “responsible school building” as the school building identified by the local education agency in terms of accountability and/or funding. The “accountability school” identifies the building for which the student’s average daily attendance and assessment scores are assigned and reported to KSDE. The “funding school” identifies the building in which the student’s enrollment is counted for state funding and/or for the Principal’s Building Report. The student’s attendance school must get any necessary data to the student’s responsible school building in time for that school to include the data in its Emergency Safety Intervention Report for a given reporting period.

Data Analysis

A team composed of KSDE and Technical Assistance System Network (TASN) staff analyze the emergency safety intervention data immediately following each reporting period. This analysis includes all calculations required by Kansas statutes. In addition, this team also completes the following calculations at the state level:

1. Total number of physical restraint incidents and seclusion incidents reported
2. Average duration of physical restraint incidents and seclusion incidents
3. Average age of student with which physical restraint is used
4. Average age of student with which seclusion is used
5. Number of physical restraint incidents and seclusion incidents aggregated by student ethnicity
6. Number of physical restraint incidents and seclusion incidents aggregated by whether the student has an IEP, Section 504 plan, BIP, or none of these
7. Median number of physical restraint incidents and seclusion incidents
8. Standard deviation of number of physical restraint incidents and seclusion incidents
9. Median duration of physical restraint incidents and seclusion incidents
10. Standard deviation of duration of physical restraint incidents and seclusion incidents

There is an accredited nonpublic school that, due to the nature of its program, serves only students with very challenging behavior. There is a very high number of emergency safety intervention incidents reported by this school. Due to these high numbers, the KSDE and TASN team analyze the emergency safety intervention data statewide with this school’s data included and again without this school’s data. The team does this to give them a complete picture of these data statewide, but technical assistance offerings are based on the data analysis completed without this school’s data. This school receives ongoing technical assistance from KSDE and TASN providers. If this school’s data were included when making technical assistance decisions, there would be schools that would not be identified as needing technical assistance due to the difference in data calculations when this school’s data is included. Due to the significant difference in data calculations when this school’s data is included, the descriptive statistics section of this report will present the data calculations without this school. The data that Kansas statutes require KSDE to report will be presented with this school’s data.

Targeted Technical Assistance

KSDE and TASN offer targeted technical assistance to every school whose total physical restraint incidents, total seclusion incidents, total physical restraint minutes, or total seclusion minutes are two standard deviations or more above the state median. Additionally, districts that indicated in a statewide survey that they did not have an emergency safety intervention policy in place received onsite targeted technical assistance. Finally, as resources allow, schools that reported no emergency safety intervention incidents are selected at random to ensure that all emergency safety intervention legal requirements are in place.

The technical assistance providers are members of the KSDE and TASN team that complete the data analysis. Targeted technical assistance is completed through a combination of email and phone contacts and an onsite visit when necessary. There are two components to targeted technical assistance. First, the technical assistance provider ensures that all emergency safety intervention legal requirements are in place at the school. This is done using a comprehensive checklist of every legal requirement. This checklist is available on the TASN website, <http://www.ksdetasn.org/resources/488>. Second, the technical assistance provider works with school staff to analyze patterns in the school's emergency safety intervention data and brainstorm methods of reducing the need to use physical restraint and seclusion, including ensuring that school staff have the necessary tools to accomplish this. The technical assistance provider also determines whether there is additional assistance that KSDE and TASN can offer to help school staff reduce the need to use physical restraint and seclusion.

KSDE and TASN began providing targeted technical assistance in the 2014–15 school year, after the emergency safety intervention regulations became final. Since that time targeted technical assistance has been provided to well over 100 schools and districts. Through the targeted technical assistance process the providers have determined that the vast majority of schools identified for targeted technical assistance either have one or more self-contained classrooms for students with disabilities or are responsible for a student or students who attend school elsewhere in a self-contained classroom for students with disabilities. Most of these self-contained classrooms serve primarily students identified with an emotional disturbance or autism. The majority of these schools had all emergency safety interventional legal requirements in place and for those schools that needed to make changes these changes were very minor in nature. For example, the most common legal requirement missed by a school is that the district's emergency safety intervention policy was posted on the district website and not the school's website, as required by regulation. When providers asked school staff what unmet needs they have that would help to reduce the need to use physical restraint and seclusion, school staff most commonly discussed the significant mental health needs of their students. School staff frequently expressed a need for additional training in the area of mental health and understanding the effect of trauma on students. School staff also indicated that they would like to see increased collaboration between community mental health agencies and schools as well as this same partnership at the state level.

Resources and Next Steps

Please review the Emergency Safety Intervention Resources page of the TASN website at <http://www.ksdetasn.org/tasn/emergency-safety-interventions-esi-resources>. These resources are designed to assist district staff and families in understanding the law on emergency safety interventions and ensuring that these requirements are in place in their school.

If you have questions or concerns about these data we hope this information can be used to start conversations with KSDE, TASN, and school districts about how we can all support district staff and families in our shared goal of making school a safe and supportive place for all students. Please feel free to contact Laura Jurgensen at ljurgensen@ksde.org or (785) 296-5522 or Julie Ehler at jehler@ksde.org or (785) 296-1944 with any specific questions or concerns.
