

BUYING

SCHOOL DISTRICTS/PRIVATE SCHOOLS:

Kansas Schools should use caution when purchasing used school buses. School bus specifications vary greatly from state to state. Kansas law requires all school buses sold in the state to meet all Kansas specifications and the law requires a verification statement attesting to this be obtained from the seller prior to purchasing. The statement form can be found on the KSDE (Kansas State Department of Education) School Bus Safety Unit’s website.

KAR 91-38-4

INDIVIDUALS:

Individuals who purchase a used school bus are responsible and required under Kansas law to make certain modifications to the bus. In ALL cases where the school bus is no longer being used to transport students home to school or school to home, the “SCHOOL BUS” lettering on the front and back bulk heads of the bus must be removed or covered up. Kansas law requires the school bus to be painted a color other than school bus yellow. Kansas law requires the stop arm to be removed from the side of the bus.

Exceptions to stop arm and color modifications:

- A church bus or day care program bus does not need to remove the stop arm.
- Any not-for-profit organization does not need to repaint the bus
